Student Performance

WPMA Spotlight 2025

The WPMA Spotlight provides students with a fantastic opportunity to perform for their family and peers. If your child would like to participate in one of these events, please talk to their teacher, who will assist in preparing them for the performance.

Participation in these recitals is free, and accompanists are provided at no charge. However, parents must contact the accompanist in advance to ensure they have the music ready for the performance day or to schedule any additional rehearsals. Please note that additional rehearsals will require payment.

Winners of the Samuel Fordis Young Artists Concerto Competition 2024-2025

Two WPMA students, Hamin You and Ethan Goh, will showcase their talents as competition winners by performing violin and cello concertos with the Georgia Philharmonic Orchestra on Saturday, February 15, 2025, at 7:00 PM at the Lassiter High School Concert Hall in Marietta, GA.

Hamin You, Violin. Sarasate Zigeunerweisen, Op.20

Hamin You, a 13-year-old from River Trail Middle School, studies violin under William Pu. He began piano at age 5 and violin at 6. Hamin has earned numerous accolades, including 1st Alternate in the 2022 GMTA Violin Competition, Conference Recitalist in 2024, and Outstanding Performer in the 2024 Instrumental Concerto category. He was also recognized as an Outstanding Performer in the piano division in 2022.

As Principal Second Violin for the GMEA All-State Orchestra in 2023 and 2024, Hamin developed a deep interest in orchestral music, leading him to join the Atlanta Symphony Youth Orchestra and the Virtuosi Orchestra of the Atlanta Festival Academy. He is currently the concertmaster of his school's chamber orchestra and recently performed a violin solo with his school chorus.

Beyond music, Hamin is active in leadership and academics. He is president of the Junior Beta Club, an editor for the school newspaper, and a medal-winning member of the Science Olympiad team.

Ethan Goh, Cello. Tchaikovsky Pezzo Capriccioso

Ethan Goh, 15, began his musical journey with piano at age six and has been playing the cello for nearly five years. He has held prominent roles in various youth orchestras, including principal cellist of the Atlanta Symphony Youth Orchestra, assistant principal of the GMEA All-State Orchestra for two years, and a member of the Emory Youth Symphony Orchestra. Ethan's accomplishments include winning the Conference Recitalist title in the Georgia Music Teachers Association auditions for both the string concerto and 9th-grade divisions, receiving an honorable mention in the Music Teachers National Association competition, and earning first prize in the 19th Century Music division of the Charleston International Music Competition. He currently studies cello with Dr. Martin Gueorguiev.

As a chamber musician, Ethan has participated in the Atlanta Festival Academy for two years and is part of a Franklin Pond Chamber Music quartet. Additionally, he has performed in cello choirs with the William Pu Music Academy and the Johns Creek High School Orchestra.
